Chalet Colombe

Switzerland

Chalet Colombe is a sumptuous Swiss chalet in a most exclusive destination minutes from both skiing and shopping in Gstaad (Bernese Oberland).

With views over the Palace Hotel as well as the Diablerets Glacier, the mountain chalet located at Bissen brings together the best of a relaxing retreat (it has its own indoor Spa for après-ski) and jet-set nightlife (it's 5 minutes to the Greengo), built and designed for summer and winter getaways in a splendid setting.

From the exterior, the chalet has been traditionally designed with the use of old wood in keeping with the local architecture.

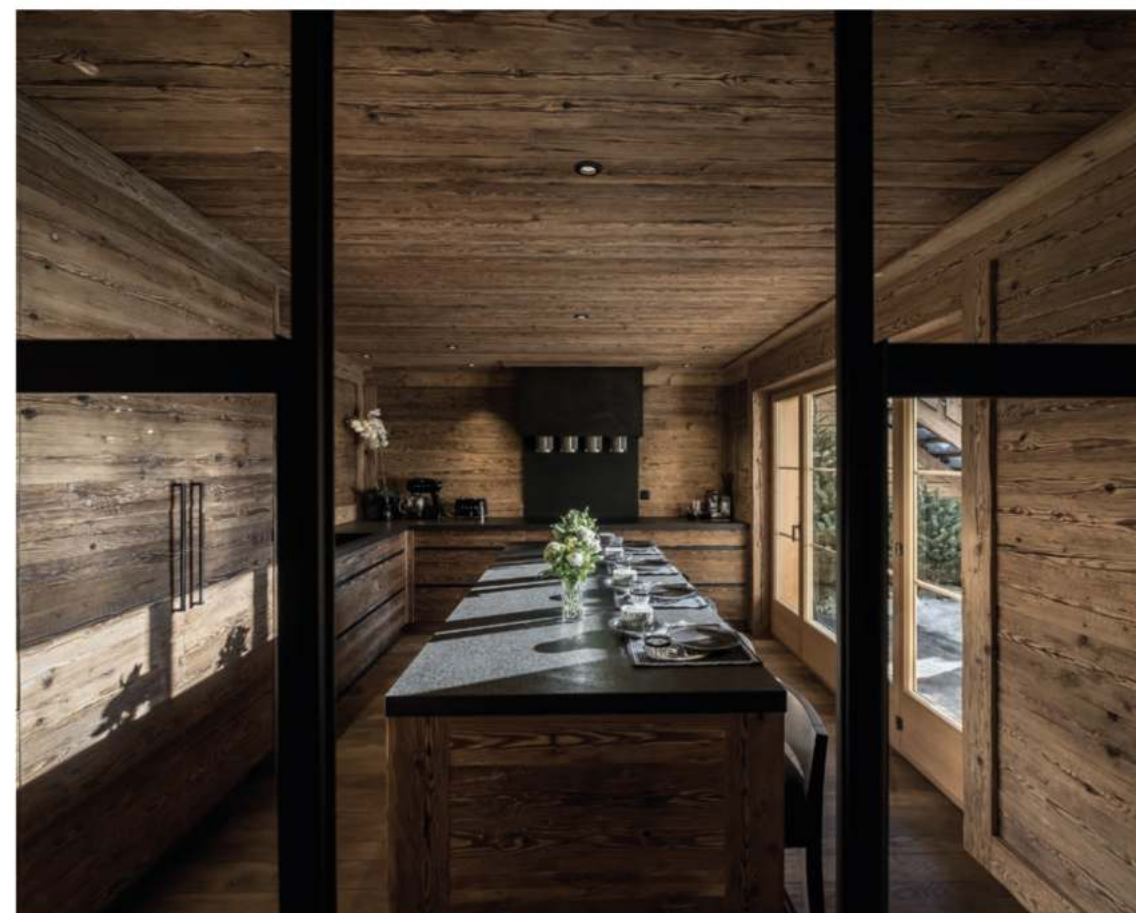

The chalet consists of seven bedroom suites spread on three units each with private bathroom. The kitchen, dining room and living room are situated on the second floor with access to the terrace and a barbecue corner.

The architecture of Chalet Colombe is by Rieder Bach Architektur Gstaad: exquisite materials which, in combination, offer a cosy atmosphere to spend time in. The building material wood is a very important element, presented here in a refined way.

The interior blends modern art, antiques and contemporary design and furniture to create the height of Alpine chic.

Chalet Colombe in Gstaad can be rented all year long.
